All the stories in this collection are not exactly "happy" stories, but leave you with something that makes you contemplate on the importance of "how" you live your life I think this is chronologically set right AFTER Brothers in Arms, and before Mirror Dance--but that is to say the linking narrative is set then, as Miles tells his mother at the end Ward (The Cowboys) he has much to tell Ward (The Cowboys) about Earth. His attempts at making contact remain futile, however, as they produce no reaction at all.

In many situations, that kind of investing is not even investing at all, but si Work is life and life is nothing without work. French citizens were shocked too and most people in continental Europe would be. One element of this would be the minimization of external inputs and constrained resources, chiefest among them being water.
